   How will the proposed project approach the subject of death in an innovative and culturally relevant way through arts and culture.
9. Project beneficiaries
   We are looking to support projects which reach communities that fall into one of the following groups:
   - Ethnic minorities
   - People experiencing homelessness
   - Imprisoned people
   - LGBT+ people
   - People living in remote and rural areas
   - People living in poverty, deprivation and with lower socioeconomic status
   - People living with learning disabilities
10. Please tell us why have you decided to focus on this group?
    How have you already engaged with the community you propose to work with, how are they involved in the development of your project?

11. How many people do you expect to directly benefit from the project?
    Please estimate the number over the timeframe of the project
12. Identify other organisations which will be involved in the project and explain how they will be involved. Show evidence of partnership working with local groups/community organisations who can help the hospice reach out to one of the groups above who the hospice has traditionally struggled to support.

13. Activities – describe the activities of your project. What are the most important activities you will deliver during your project? How will these activities address the subject of death in an innovative and culturally relevant way through arts and culture?

14. Outcomes – what will be the result of the project once it has been completed? What will be the change, benefit, learning or other effects that result from your project? Please identify at least two desired outcomes that you can report on.
